Virginia	Anderson	Atherton	CA	Don't participate in sliding backward regarding truth about reproductive health care services. In this era when many families with children are forced to live on the streets because they're not able to provide decent lives for themselves and their children, it's a troubling bent to support limits to reproductive rights. Are we raising a caste of slaves?

Deborah	LeVeen	Berkeley	CA
Candace	DesBaillets	Berkeley	CA
Claudine	Torfs	Berkeley	CA	Did you know that public health data show that maternal death from abortion are highest where abortion is forbidden? Why? Because through all ages and in all countries, women do abort, either safely or unsafely. Abortion is and has been done all over the world forever. It was even allowed by the Catholic church for the first semester of pregnancy until the "ensoulment" -- that is the time the church thought the "soul" of the embryo entered the fetus-- until the 13th or so century. It is still the same rule for the present day Muslims until the "quickening" or "ensoulment". Check it out. Use only scientific sources: they don't lie or have a religious prejudice.
Helen	Cagampang	Berkeley	CA	Illegal abortion hurts women. Even though rarely needed, access to legal and affordable abortion is an essential component of comprehensive women's health care. The posters are deceptive and part of a propaganda campaign that undermines women's health. They should be removed.

James	Paulson	Camarillo	CA	Women can make their own health&reproductive care decisions.
Sofia	Balderas	Ceres	CA	Please stop the misinformation! What a shameful display in a historically progressive city!
Marsha	Malone	Chino	CA	Has anyone noticed that, of elected officials, those who are trying to reverse women's rights are almost all MEN? Women, we are the majority! We must band together and elect those who will support us, not try to control us.
Ruby	Goodwin	Chino	CA	This continued campaign of lies and deception must be stopped. I hardly thought that I would still be fighting for the right to manage my own health care and reproductive rights at 54 years of age, 40 years after Roe. This war on women and our hard earned freedoms must STOP, and we must do everything in our power to STOP IT NOW.

Pam	Ramirez	Richmond	CA	Those who don't need or chose to have an abortion if they become pregnant that's fine. That's their decision. They should not be trying to force their opinion on others. Their opinion is 100% religion based and our government is supposed to be based on separation of church and state. Their religious based opinion should not be entering our legislative/governmental actions. That is in opposition to our constitutional rights to separation of church and state. Let women decide; it is part of the right to pursue happiness, also a constitutional right.

As a public health professional, I am shocked that these untruths are being spread on City managed banners. As a former City public health worker, I was proud that I worked to support the health and well-being of families in the City; particular the health and well-being of girls and women. Larry	Adelman	San Francisco	CA	Dear Mr. Mayor: I am a big believer in freedom of speech but not statements which are lies and can harm others. For the City to allow banners on its property which are outright falsehoods about women is as alarming as it would be to see banners on City property promoting racist or anti-Semitic remarks. Further, the statement that "abortion hurts women" itself harms women. That's not a public health message I believe you or our other City leaders wish to propagate. Mary	Naples	Sausalito	CA	As a former City resident and advocate for progressive causes, I'm OUTRAGED at these clearly misogynistic signs!! Anything which restricts woman's agency in reproductive options in UNACCEPTABLE!! It is truly disappointing to see it on BANNERS in arguably the most progressive city in the world!! FOR SHAME!!!
Maureen	Keenan	Sausalito	CA	I support abortion facilities.

Iris	Moore	Sebastopol	CA	Sexism hurts women. Being dependent on someone's good humor hurts women. Having to do things they don't want to, to keep their children safe hurts women. Being taught that being sexy is important hurts women. Having the right to determine their own future does not hurt women. Take down those banners. Women who don't want abortions don't have to have them, but they may still need more support than any of the people spreading the lies on those banners will ever offer.

Individuals and organizations should not have the opportunity to post misleading or medically false information on public property, especially when doing so appears to have the blessing/support of the government.
Carol	Bailey	Stockton	CA	As a frequent visitor to San Francisco, I can not believe the signs posted along Market St. I expect "the city" to be an eclectic mix of everything good - not a messenger for untruths.

Mary M	Davis	Woodland	CA	I lost friends due to lack of affordable, safe, and accessible abortions in the 70's because of oppression used by bible thumpers in the Midwest. Abortions do not hurt women and young ladies unless YOU force them back into the black market, back alley butcher shops of the past, if that happens, the blame is ALL ON YOU CITY/COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO. The formerly most free thinking city in the USA!
Carol	Norberg		CA	Allowing misinformation posted along Market St hurts San Francisco's reputation for justice and fair play.
Julie	Slater	Arvada	CO	I am joining this campaign to express my strong disgust that San Francisco has allowed such garbage to be displayed on banners in the city which degrade women. Please remove the "Abortion Hurts Women" banners immediately and issue a public statement recognizing the harm this has caused as well as how San Francisco will ensure something as awful as this never happens again. Thanks!

THAT is not a town I wish to visit!

Clare	Feinson	Washington	DC	These banners must come down! They perpetuate statements that have been proven wrong by research! Their placement on governmental property is questionable, at best. Women deserve support, not more harassment.

Jessica	Kraskian	Park Ridge	NJ	These banners intentionally lie and mislead women. The deeply deceptive anti-choice movement wants to force everyone to base their lives and medical decisions around lies designed to convince women to accept being denied the legal rights and freedoms of an adult human being. It is deeply shameful that your city has allowed these misleading and harmful banners to pollute the minds of your city's residents. TAKE THEM DOWN RIGHT NOW.
CLAIRE Sandra Tracy	COWART Needham Sherman	PRINCETON JCT 2405 Blake Rd SW Las Vegas	NJ NM NV	I have never visited San Francisco, it has long been on my list of places I would like to go. I assumed the culture was open and honest (you are famous for your Gay community after all). But this has changed my mind. Any city foolish enough to let a few idiots put up banners that are patently FALSE is no longer a place I want to visit. I speak from the experience of 2 abortions for very different reasons. One saved my life and the other saved my child from suffering and dying right after birth. Not only did these not hurt - they were blessings. Next time you decide to make stupid statements, perhaps you will think about the tourist money you are losing.

Janelle	Barabash	Brooklyn	NY	Abortion is legal. Since it has become legal, it is safe. The most dangerous part of having an abortion is living in a society that attempts to instill guilt and pain in a woman who has made a rational and perfectly safe medical decision.
